Danspace Project pays respect to Lenape peoples. We acknowledge that this work is situated on the Lenape island of Manhahtaan (Mannahatta) in Lenapehoking, the Lenape homeland. We pay respect to Lenape land, water, and ancestors past, present, and future.
Danspace Project presents new work in dance, supports a diverse range of choreographers in developing their work, encourages experimentation, and connects artists to audiences.

For over 45 years, Danspace Project has supported a vital community of contemporary dance artists in an environment unlike any other in the United States. Located in the historic St. Mark’s Church in the-Bowery, Danspace shares its facility with the Church, The Poetry Project, and New York Theatre Ballet. Danspace Project’s Commissioning Initiative has commissioned over 570 new works since its inception in 1994.

Danspace Project provides context for audiences and increased support for artists. Our public programs (including Danspace Presents, Platforms, Food for Thought, DraftWork, Conversations Without Walls, and Publications) Commissioning Initiative, residencies, guest artist curators, and contextualizing activities and materials offer a responsive framework for artists’ works.

Fall 2022
A note from Stephen Petronio

This program is about connections through time. There is a lineage of experimentation and trust in movement in these works that has had a deep impact on my life. It starts with Steve Paxton, a postmodern legend and inventor of the improvisational form, Contact Improvisation. Steve was also an early teacher of mine at the very start of my career at Hampshire College in 1974. Tonight, we present Jag Vill Gärna Telefonera (I Would Like to Make a Phone Call) (1964/1982), a score he danced with another icon and visual artist, Robert Rauschenberg. There is no recording of that performance, but in 1982, Paxton asked me to create a version of this score with Randy Warshaw, a dancer and colleague who I improvised with in my early days at Hampshire College and then danced with in the Trisha Brown Dance Company in the 80s. Tonight, as part of SPC’s Bloodlines Initiative, you will see the Petronio/Warshaw reconstruction of Steve's score, which originally premiered on this very stage in 1982.

The second work on the program is my own Stephen Petronio Company offering created with my dancers. The process first started at a “bubble residency” at Petronio Residency Center during the first COVID-19 lockdown and was a life raft of hope and artistic survival. It began as a dance film titled New Prayer For Now (2020) and morphed into a live performance at the Joyce Theater as New New Prayer For Now (2021) when the world cracked open again. Now, this piece is reimagined for Danspace Project's St. Mark’s Church sanctuary as this piece is reimagined for Danspace the world cracked open again. Now, New New Prayer For Now performance at the Joyce Theater as For Now began as a dance film titled first COVID-19 lockdown and was a Petronio Residency Center during the first started at a “bubble residency” at created with my dancers. The process on this very stage in 1982.

After intermission, you will see works by three artists that have inspired my hope of what is to come. Davalois Fearon, Johnnie Cruise Mercer and Tendayi Kumba/Greg Purnell (U/I/Mothership) were commissioned by SPC for Bloodlines(uture), the forward looking eye of the Bloodlines Initiative that looks to new voices in the field to facilitate needed future-facing dialogue and innovation in the modern dance field. I love these artists. Our connection starts as simple inspiration, admiration, and support. The best way SPC can serve them is to simply present opportunity, then step out of their way. While I care deeply about their trajectory, it is theirs to invent. So I won’t say much about these works except to watch them for their wonderful spirit. I hope this small encouragement for them is understood as a deep belief in what they have in store for us as artists in the years to come.

- Stephen Petronio, Founder and Artistic Director of Stephen Petronio Company
Petronio’s own artistic path. To date, the Company has restaged twelve works, by Merce Cunningham, Trisha Brown, Anna Halprin, Yvonne Rainer, Rudy Perez, and Steve Paxton, receiving two New York Dance and Performance “Bessie” Award nominations for the 2017 Bloodlines season. The juxtapositions of Bloodlines repertory alongside Petronio’s works offers audiences an experiential insight into the evolution of this strand of creativity in American choreography.

This season is the third iteration of Bloodlines(future), a program that commissions future generations of artists and honours the Bloodlines lineage, exemplifying how these historical masters frame the future of modern dance.

In 2017, Stephen Petronio Company expanded its focus on American postmodern dance to explore the meaning of legacy and its impact on the future and sustainability of this most ephemeral art form by establishing the Petronio Residency Center (PRC), which provides a safe haven for intensive developmental choreographic research. Located in the Hudson Valley, PRC supports future choreographic invention in the field with artist residencies and education initiatives. The program has since served over 100 artists, becoming part of a growing ecosystem in the U.S. dedicated to fostering a new model for the future of contemporary dance.

In 2021, with the Doris Duke Charitable Foundation, PRC established a permanent conservation easement for 77 acres of the 175-acre property, designating The Doris Duke Preserve at Round Top, Greene County as a preserve in perpetuity, putting PRC at the forefront of regional conservation efforts. Sheltered in and enlivened by the restorative and inspirational power of the natural world, artists at PRC are invited to immerse themselves in a pristine natural environment, benefitting from a residency and a retreat with unconstrained time and resources to make new work, with no deliverables required, and unfettered access to an extraordinary natural landscape.

Stephen Petronio (Founder and Artistic Director, SPC) is a choreographer, dancer, and the Artistic Director of the Stephen Petronio Company since 1980. Over 30 years, Stephen Petronio has honed a unique language of movement that speaks to the intuitive and complex possibilities of the body informed by its shifting cultural context. He has collaborated with a wide range of artists in many disciplines and disciplines, and holds the integration of multiple forms as fundamental to his creative drive and vision. He continues to create a haven for dancers with a keen interest in the history of contemporary movement and an appetite for the unknown. Petronio was born in Newark, New Jersey. He attended Amherst College in Massachusetts, where he began his early training in improvisation and dance technique. He was greatly influenced by working with Steve Paxton in New York, and was the first male dancer of the Trisha Brown Dance Company (1979 to 1986). He has gone on to build a unique career, receiving numerous accolades, including a John Simon Guggenheim Fellowship, awards from the Foundation for Contemporary Performance Arts, New York Foundation for the Arts, an American Choreographer Award, a New York Dance and Performance “Bessie” Award, and a 2015 Doris Duke Performing Art Award.

Petronio has created over 35 works for his company and has been commissioned by some of the world’s most prestigious modern and ballet companies, including William Forsythe’s Ballet Frankfurt (1987), Deutsche Oper Berlin (1992), Lyon Opera Ballet (1994), Maggio Danza Florence (1996), Sydney Dance Company (2003, full evening), Norddans (2006), the Washington Ballet (2007), The Scottish Ballet (2007), and two works for National Dance Company Wales (2010 and 2013). Over the years, Petronio has collaborated with a wide range of artists in many disciplines. Collaborators include some of the most talented and provocative artists in the world: composers Valgeir Sigurðsson, Nico Muhly, Rufus Wainwright, Lou Reed, Laurie Anderson, and William Forsythe’s Ballet Frankfurt Robert Longo, Cindy Sherman, Anish Kapoor, Donald Baechler, and Janine Antoni; fashion designers Narciso Rodriguez, John Bartlett, Benjamin Cho, and Leigh Bowery.

Larissa Asebedo (Dancer, SPC) grew up in Denver, Colorado until attending and graduating summa cum laude from the Conservatory of Dance at SUNY Purchase. There she completed her BFA in dance and minor in psychology while also studying abroad in Perth, Australia. Since moving to Brooklyn, Larissa has had the pleasure of working professionally with Rachel Germond, Ohad Naharin, Alex Springer and Xan Wainwright, Lou Reed, Laurie Anderson, and William Forsythe’s Ballet Frankfurt Robert Longo, Cindy Sherman, Anish Kapoor, Donald Baechler, and Janine Antoni; fashion designers Narciso Rodriguez, John Bartlett, Benjamin Cho, and Leigh Bowery.

Liviya England (Dancer, SPC) began training in her hometown of Minneapolis. She ventured to New York at 16 to study at the Ailey School where she dedicated her pursuits to modern dance as the recipient of the Oprah Winfrey Foundation and Toulin Scholarships. She graduated from NYU Tisch School of The Arts with academic honors while studying Dance and Social and Cultural Analysis. Throughout her time in New York, Liviya has performed in the works of Wayne McGregor, Sidra Bell, Christian von Howard, and Earl Mosley. She is thrilled to join Stephen Petronio Company for the first time this season and continues to indulge in her practice as a movement artist.

Michaela Esteban (Dancer, SPC) is a Filipina-American freelance dance artist. She holds a Bachelor of Fine Arts from the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, where she performed works by Shannon Gillen, Jawole Willa Jo Zollar, Shoshana Spector, and Steven Petronio. Since moving to New York, she has had the pleasure of working with Shannon Gillen, Jawole Willa Jo Zollar, Shoshana Spector, and Steven Petronio. Since moving to New York, she has had the pleasure of working with Shannon Gillen, Jawole Willa Jo Zollar, Shoshana Spector, and Steven Petronio.

Jaqlin Medlock (Dancer, SPC) works with people in need of capturing movement, as a dancer, photographer, and occasionally a model. Medlock is from the Bronx, NY and holds a BFA in Dance from Marymount Manhattan College. She has performed works by various artists, including Petronio, Esteban, and Medlock.
artists, including Nacho Duato, Angelin Preljocaj, Donald Byrd, Max Stone, Tyce Diorio, Sonya Tayeh, Julie Bour, Pedro Ruiz, and NeJa Yatkin. Medlock joined Stephen Petronio Company in 2011. She was named “On The Rise” by Dance Magazine in 2012, and received a TWI-NY Pandemic Award for Best Solo Dance Performance in 2020.

Tess Montoya (Dancer and Education Director, SPC) was raised in Santa Fe, New Mexico, where she began her training at the National Dance Institute of New Mexico. She graduated from Point Park University with a Bachelor of Arts in dance. Since moving to New York, Montoya has worked with Megan Kendzior, Daniel Gwirtzman, Daniel Roberts, and Alexandria Giroux. She has taken part in multiple workshops and performances through the Merce Cunningham Trust Fellowship Program. Tess is currently General Manager with DaValois Fearon Dance. She joined Stephen Petronio Company in 2015 and is Director of the Company’s Education Program.

Ryan Pliss (Dancer, SPC) originally from Ithaca, New York, received a BFA in Dance Performance from the Conservatory of Dance at Purchase College, where heoversaw the arts. Before joining academia, Ken was the General Manager for New York City Ballet (NYCB), where, in addition to overseeing administrative aspects of operations, he supervised the renovation of the David H. Koch Theater. He began his career as a lighting designer and is a Bessie Award winner for his work with Stephen Petronio. Ken earned his J. D. from Fordham Law School in 1996 and holds a 3rd degree black belt in Taekwondo.

Nicholas Sciscione (Dancer and Assistant to the Artistic Director, SPC) was born and raised in Elizabeth, New Jersey. Sciscione has worked with Netta Yerushalmy, Joshua Beamish, Kyle Marshall Choreography, and 10 Hairy Legs. He is a student of Susan Klein and the Klein Technique. Sciscione joined Stephen Petronio Company in 2011 and has been the Assistant to the Artistic Director since 2016. He has been nominated for “NY Bessie Awards Outstanding Performer” in 2017 and 2021.

Monstah Black (Musician) (they) is a recording/performing artist and is half of the DJ/electronic duo The Illustrious Blacks w/ husband Manchildblack. Monstah’s work has been commissioned by The Phillips Collection x The Royal Collection as well as several dance companies including the east coast BFA dance programs. Awards include: 2021 Bessie Award nominee for Outstanding Music Composition/Sound Design, Open Call The Shed, The Tom Merrin Performance Award, Franklin Furnace Fund, Lower Manhattan Cultural Council, American Music Center Live Music: Music: Compilation of Dancehall and Raggamuffin music for Dance and Opera. Monstah garnered support from organizations including Dixon Place and Joe’s Pub/Public Theater to name a few.

Marine Penvern (Costume Designer) Originally from France, self-taught, Penvern’s work spans from music and painting to fashion design. Her signature fashion designs led her to create costumes for dance since 2006 from her eponymous downtown Manhattan atelier, drawing inspirations for her designs while putting looks together for extraordinary dancers and choreographers. Penvern has recently opened her new atelier in Hudson, New York where she is now based. Alongside Stephen Petronio Company her collaborative efforts include work with David Michalek, Wendy Whelan, Lucinda Childs, for the Frederick Recreation Center, Adam Weinert and Adam Barruch. “Without dance my clothing wouldn’t exist.” ~ Marine Penvern

Ken Tabachnick (resident Lighting Designer, SPC) is currently the Executive Director of the Merca Cury Trust, where he oversees all operations and long-term planning. Prior to that, Ken worked as a Senior Associate at AEA Consulting. From 2013-2016, he was Deputy Dean at the Tisch School of the Arts, NYU and prior to joining Tisch, he was the first Dean of the School of the Arts at Purchase College, where he oversaw the arts. Before joining academia, Ken was the General Manager for New York City Ballet (NYCB), where, in addition to overseeing administrative aspects of operations, he supervised the renovation of the David H. Koch Theater. He began his career as a lighting designer and is a Bessie Award winner for his work with Stephen Petronio. Ken earned his J. D. from Fordham Law School in 1996 and holds a 3rd degree black belt in Taekwondo.

Finding Herstory is a solo dance project created and performed by DaValois Fearon. It was commissioned by the Stephen Petronio Company for the 2021 Bloodlines(tuture), and was made possible, in part, by public funds from the New York State Council on the Arts.
with support from Governor Hochul and New York State Legislature. Finding Herstory is inspired by Africanist forms such as reggae and dancehall that have contributed to the American dance landscape and shaped Fearon as an artist.

The creation of Excerpts of Finding Herstory was made possible by support from individual donors and public funds from the New York City Department of Cultural Affairs in partnership with the City Council and the Bronx Council on the Arts. In addition, the creative development was supported, in part, by Dance/NYC’s Dance Advancement Fund, sponsored by Howard Gilman Foundation and Ford Foundation, the Mosaic Network and Fund in The New York Community Trust, by grants from the Metropolitan Museum of Art, and the Ford Foundation. For four consecutive years, he has been listed in the Clarinet “Rising Star” category by the DownBeat Magazine International Critics Poll.

Mike McGinnis (Musician) is a saxophonist, clarinetist, and composer, and musical explorer unbound by stylistic barriers; unwaveringly individual, curious, and open-minded. He has released five critically acclaimed albums as a leader during his twenty-two years in the NYC jazz scene. In April of 2017 and 2018, he performed to sold-out houses at the world-famous Jazz Standard in NYC, leading a trio with jazz legends Art Lande and Steve Swallow. As musical director of Davalois Fearon Dance, he has performed his compositions at the Joyce Theater, New Victory Theater, New York City Center, The African-American Museum, the Metropolitan Museum, Rubin Museum, Bronx Museum and was the recipient of a 2019 MAP Fund Grant. For four consecutive years, he has been listed in the Clarinet “Rising Star” category by the DownBeat Magazine International Critics Poll.

Jasmine Murrell (Wearable Structure Designer) is a Brooklyn-based interdisciplinary visual artist who employs several different mediums to create sculptures, installations, photography, performance, land art and films that blur the line between history and mythology. She has exhibited nationally and internationally, in venues such as the Museum of Contemporary Art; the Bronx Museum; the Museum Contemporay Art Chicago; the Whitney Museum, the African-American Museum of Art,and the International Museum of Photography. Murrell has been a resident artist at the Bronx Museum AIM program; Baxter St. Gallery workspace; BRIClab Contemporary Art Residency and Block Gallery workspace. Her work has been included in the book MFON: Women Photographers of the African Diaspora, and The New York Times, Ebony, Time Magazine. Hyperallergic, The Detroit Times and several other publications.

Julia Rodriguez-Cruz (Production Assistant) is a dancer and emerging choreographer from the Bronx. She participated in the 2020 Dance your Bronx UP! choreography program with BAAD! under the mentorship of Alethea Pace. Julia is also a recent graduate of Hunter College (2022) where she received her BA in dance. As a student she performed in works by Kyle Abraham and Christian Von Howard. During her time at Hunter, she also gained a deep interest in lightning design and lit for several of her peers’ works. After graduation, Julia worked as the assistant lighting designer and stage manager for Davalois Fearon Dance. Dava has been my teacher since I was 14 years old and it’s always exciting to work with her. I’m grateful for her mentorship and for all the opportunities she and her company has given me to grow in my craft. I’m thrilled to be her production assistant for this Danspace program.

Jalisa Wallerson (Understudy) is a 22-year-old technically trained NYC based dancer and choreographer. Born in Brooklyn, New York, she started her training with Victory Music and Dance Company INC at the age of eleven years old. She then went on to attend Brooklyn High School of the Arts. During her summers, Jalisa Wallerson attended Earl Mosley’s Institute of the Arts where she got the chance to work with Clifton Brown, Alexander Diaz, Antonio Brown, Ruddy Frias, and Earl Mosley. She made her debut in a commercial for the Nike x NY Parks collection launch back in 2019. Jalisa is currently at Hunter College pursuing her bachelor’s degree in dance with a psychology minor so that she can continue to perform and teach professionally. As a daughter of a dancer, Jalisa says she “is honored to work with such an educated and talented role model. I feel truly blessed to work closely with Dava. Representation is important and being a young black woman in the dance community, I find it refreshing to stand alongside.”

Jordan Brookin (Videographer) is an emerging interdisciplinary artist with a Bachelor of Fine Arts in Dance from the University of Illinois Urbana-Champaign. His focus includes studying various Africanist and street dance forms, with additional interest in contemporary style. Other pursuits include videography, photography, and psychology. In his time dancing at Urbana-Champaign, Jordan has studied under Dr. Kemal Nance, Dr. Cynthia Oliver, Roxanne D’Orleans Juste, Danzel Thompson-Stout, and Abigail Zbikowski.

Jay Beardsley (Media Artist) is a white, nonbinary dancer, multimedia artist, and teacher based in Brooklyn, NY. Jay received their BFA in Dance & Choreography from Virginia Commonwealth University, graduating in 2020 with an Outstanding Choreographer award and the Bobby Chandler Award for Theatre. They currently produce for and perform with Ballez/Katy Pyle, TheRedProjectNYC/Johnnie Cruise Mercer and MICHYAYA Dance, among other freelance projects. Their involvement with artists is multifaceted, spanning movement, choreography, community organizing, visual media arts, and grant writing. Jay’s performance credits include Katy Pyle, Johnnie Cruise Mercer, Michelle Thompson-Ulerich, and Sinclair Ogaga Emoghene. Their choreography and media work has been produced by organizations such as Movement Research (NYC), Proteomedia (NYC), Dance Place (Washington, D.C.), and Dogtown Dance Theatre (Richmond, VA). They will be an inaugural artist-in-residence at a new venue curated by MICHYAYA in early 2023. They are active in DIY/anti-structural performance spaces and communities which aim to create and celebrate work by, for, and through the people. Additionally, Jay is a teacher of movement and theater at various local studios and within the NYC DOE schooling systems. Jay has deepened their performance research through a multitude of workshops and intensives with artists/organizations including Sidra Bell, Kristopher K.Q. Pourzal, and American Dance Festival. You can learn more about Jay on their very casual-style Instagram, @j_b7777777.

ÜFlyMothership is a collaboration of the minds of Tendayi Kuumba & Greg Purnell. ÜFly grew from ideas, curiosities, & celebrations of the Unidentified Flyness of black and melanated peoples. Since 2017 they’ve created performance by, for, and through the people. Currently a launchpad to work with personal history, collective philosophy, and entrepreneurship. With partnerships that bridge state-lines (students involved live in New York, Pennsylvania, Washington DC, and Virginia), MelaninMovementNYC is set up as an educational lab for young thinkers to practice collaboration and while working in reflection, and in service. Covid Safety Vaccination: Audiences, aged 5 years and older are required to show proof of vaccine and first eligible booster against COVID-19 before entry to Danspace Project.

Masks: All guests and staff must wear a surgical face-mask while inside Danspace Project (KN95 or N95 recommended).

Face masks are allowed to be temporarily removed for the following exceptions:
- When outdoors.
- 5 Years and under – at the discretion of the guardian.

*Performers may remove masks when on stage rehearsing or performing.

Testing: Proof of negative COVID-19 test is not required for a public audience although every person is expected to know their COVID-19 status. Danspace recommends testing once weekly: PCR (within 72 hours) or rapid antigen (within 12 hours).

Danspace Project Inc. bases all decisions regarding public health on the best available science and follows at all times guidance from the U.S. Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC), the New York State Department of Health and the City of New York Department of Health. Danspace's plans, policies, and guidance to Danspace community members will adapt and be updated as guidance from those agencies evolves with our understanding of COVID-19.
